

Baby Beats Music Class

"Babies naturally respond to MUSIC"

Early exposure to music will develop better focus and promote more advanced learning. It helps with language development and it is a great time for bonding. Music also stimulates neural connections in the brain later enhancing learning in subject such as math and physics. Yes it does all that and more!

Have you ever put on music and then observe a baby or toddler? Instantly their senses sharpen, they still their bodies to LISTEN... and then it happens...it MOVES them! They start to sway or bounce depending on what's being played. Truly amazing!

Join us for a wonderful experience in our Baby Beats Music Class at Backstage Dance Center "Where Community Comes Together".
